Brainstorming

We have the dawning of a hint of normality with the opening up of life. There is some light and some hope and some fear. There has to be fear. Basic respect for each other is essential. This virus is dangerous. We can't become familiar and casual. Those recent months were very strange. The reality of old age has been shocking. The notion of high risk, has been telling. Retirement has come at some of us, at an unlikely pace.
Church personnel will change rapidly. Who is now available under this new dispensation? How we do things has become very different.
The staffing of parishes with priests, is impossible if we try to do it as we always did. Many decisions that should have been taken years ago in terms of planning, are now being forced on us. Our mentality has to change drastically. People have got used to 'shopping around' for Masses. They may have got a glimpse of something different. They may want more. They might even have got to like, being in control of what they watch and how they take part.
There is a brainstorming necessary in every parish; in every diocese; in every Religious Congregation. It isn't only about the guidelines and all the practical details of our new lives (that too) but the more difficult issues – of what kind of Church; faith community; worship; priesthood – we have to create.
